Anatomy Puzzle

Anatomy is a word that refers to the structure of something living. So, we're going to do a human anatomy puzzle!

On the next page, there will be a page with a puzzle with many of the body parts (both outer and inner) parts that you learned about.

Let's go over some instructions for the activity.

1. If you'd like, color in the pieces with whatever color you'd like, but if you're coloring, it's easier to do it before you cut everything out.
2. Write down the names of each body part, both outer and inner.
3. You'll need to cut out the pieces.
4. Tape your pieces together.
5. Remember to put the kidneys and slightly above behind the intestines!
6. Name your character and take it home!
